

Universal Design and Visitability Classes (FREE)

UNIVERSAL DESIGN COALITION (www.easyuniversaldesign.com)

The design of houses can impact the ability of residents to stay at home as they age or following a short- or long-term disability. To better support these populations, Sarasota County has implemented a voluntary recognition program for residential units that apply principles of Universal Design and Visitability. This class is useful for anyone interested in planning ahead for housing needs as you age or those looking to support a loved one who is aging or disabled. It would also be useful for contractors who may be interested in applying these strategies in their home designs and retrofits. Sarasota County sustainability staff and community partners will present on age-friendly housing strategies and local programs that support them.

Architects, Contractors and Interior Designers can receive
1 Hour of HSW Continuing Education Units (CEUs).

Register online at eventbrite.com
(Search Universal Design in Sarasota, FL)

Wednesday, March 9, 2016: 4:00 - 5:00 PM
Selby Public Library
1331 First St.
Sarasota, FL 34236

Thursday, April 14, 2016: 4:00 - 5:00 PM
Jacaranda Library
4143 Woodmere Park Blvd
Venice, FL 34293

For questions or further information, please contact Sara Kane at 941-861-9802 or skane@scgov.net.

UNIVERSAL DESIGN COALITION AS CO-PRESENTERS

